

S. Janin Wimer
Vice President

1999 Avenue of the Stars, Suite 1150
–Los Angeles, California 90067
Direct: 310-728-2031
jwimer@compasslexecon.com

EDUCATION

June 2005, A.B. in Public Policy, specialization Economics, with Honors, University of Chicago

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

COMPASS LEXECON

Vice President, April 2017 – Present Los Angeles, California
Senior Economist, April 2015 – April 2017
Economist, April 2012 – March 2015
Senior Analyst, April 2009 – March 2012

Compass Lexecon, a leading economic consulting firm, provides government and corporate clients with economic advice based on rigorous data modeling and analysis.

- Manage analytical quantitative projects involving data analysis and modeling to provide competitive insights to clients in response to merger proposals and government inquiries.
- Conduct market research to understand the competitive landscape of a given industry and client position.

SELECTED CONSULTING EXPERIENCE AT COMPASS LEXECON

REGULATORY REVIEW

U.S. Federal Trade Commission Investigation of Google Search Practices

Managed analytical projects and industry research for papers and findings submitted to the U.S. Federal Trade Commission in relation to its investigation of Google’s business practices in the online search and mobile industries. The Commission concluded that Google’s search practices did not stifle competition and voted unanimously against bringing charges related to allegations of “search bias” and other business practices. (2010 – 2013)

MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS

AT&T/DIRECTV Acquisition

Analyze the economic efficiencies of the potential $48.5 billion acquisition through industry research and data modeling and analysis. (2014)

Google/ITA Acquisition

Managed analytical projects involving statistical analysis of internal company and third party data for presentations to the U.S. Department of Justice during its review of the Google/ITA acquisition. The U.S. DOJ approved the acquisition. (2011-2012)

Awarded "Merger Control Matter of the Year – Americas" in 2012 from Global Competition Review for Compass Lexecon’s economic and statistical analysis related to Google’s $700 million acquisition of ITA Software.

Comcast Corp. et al v. Behrend et al. Litigation

Analyzed competitive aspects of cable industry mergers, acquisitions and “swaps” through quantitative analysis, including spatial analysis. The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in favor of Comcast Corp. in 2013. (2008-2010)

LECG LLC

LECG formerly was a leading economic consulting firm, providing economic analysis for regulatory investigation and litigation matters.

Senior Associate, Global Competition Division, July 2008 – March 2009

Los Angeles, California

Associate, Global Competition Division, July 2006 – June 2008

Analyst, Global Competition Division, July 2005 – June 2006

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Past President, University of Chicago Alumni Club of Los Angeles, 2009-2010 and Board Member, 2006-2012.

Active Member, Junior League of Los Angeles, 2012-2014

An organization of women committed to improving the community through service and educational and charitable support. Public Policy Institute committee member, 2013-2014; Daybreak service committee member, 2014-2015.

Triathlete, NBCUniversal Triathlon Team, 2012 and 2013, Classic Distance; 2014, Olympic Distance; 2015, Long Course Ironman Half.

MANAGEMENT AND TECHNICAL EXPERIENCE

Extensive experience in organizational management, document database management, market research, and large data management and data analysis through the use of statistical software including SAS.

Managerial experience in leading, training, and mentoring junior team members.